

BICENTENNIAL PROJECT — Teachers at the Mound Street Elementary School were busy Saturday painting the outline of the map of the United States, which is the school's Bicentennial project.

U.S. Map Is Bicentennial Project At Mound Street

By DAVE AMEY

Herald City Editor

A gigantic (in both size and effort) Bicentennial project is nearly finished at the Mound St. Elementary School, where students and teachers are painting a map of the United States on the playground.

The likeness, stretching 58 feet long and 36 feet high, is somewhat altered, however, with Alaska and Hawaii out of place because they would have interfered with the kick-ball playing surface on the small, asphalt-surface play area.

Teachers hope the multi-colored map will serve a similar purpose as a teaching instrument for both classroom and play activities.

In fact, teachers are already planning a variety of games and contests around the map.

Although the teachers donated their off-duty time last weekend to finish painting, the teachers and students have been combining their talents since school began to work on the map.

First, the teachers found a well-designed map of the nation and, with the help of the students, cut-out each individual state.

An opaque projector was used to enlarge the tiny map pieces to working size, and the blown-up likenesses were traced onto large rolls of paper. Some states, by their size, required several splittings before the project was finished.

Most of the students and teachers at Mound St. moved their operation to the playground Friday after the surface was swept clean by the youngsters.

The enlarged cuttings were placed on the playground in their respective order, and (with the younger students serving as paper weights) the students traced the outline of the states onto the pavement with chalk.

Then the teachers got into the spirit of the project, using white traffic paint donated by the State Highway Department.

Now that the outline of the states is completed, and large lake and river regions are designated with blue paint, the Mound Streeters plan to outline the 13 original states in red and use stars to show the capitals of each of the states.

However, no writing is included in the project in an attempt to have the children learn the states in their respective positions.

Teachers participating in the project are Rosemary Hughes, Eileen Osborn, Brenda Southward, Virginia Hendrickson, Cheryl Wilcox, Dorothy Dunkle, Amy Miga, Pat Starkey, AnnaLee Brevard, Sally Helwag, Harriet Riser, Carol Roper, John Edgar, Pam Makeever, Sue Schiff, Debbie Boyer, and Elsie Updyke, school principal.

Voters Decide Fate Of State Bond Issues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio citizens stopped at polling places today to decide the fate of the most ambitious state bond package ever put before voters in the United States.

The decision was being made on Gov. James A. Rhodes' $4.5 billion bond package, which he has billed as a "Blueprint for Ohio" to lead the state out of recession and toward economic prosperity. Rhodes voted about an hour after polls opened at 6:30 a.m.

Opponents contend it could send the state into bankruptcy. They were standing on streets in at least one city urging votes against the issues by holding homemade signs and draping banners made of bed sheets over highway overpasses.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has predicted that 3.1 million Ohioans would cast their ballots before the polls close at 7:30 p.m. That would equal the turnout in last year's hotly contested gubernatorial race.

But indications from early voting from around the state showed the turnout may be below that figure.

In Cuyahoga County, Elections Director Virgil Brown said voting was "steady throughout the county, but I wouldn't say heavy." In urban Lucas County and rural Union County, voting was normal for an off-year election.

The Montgomery County Board of Elections said campaign signs were removed at some polling places when they were discovered to be too close to the voting booths.

The National Weather Service was predicting variable cloudiness for the balloting, with temperatures this afternoon in the 60s and low 70s and some chance of rain.

There are nine proposed constitutional amendments on the statewide ballot. But the governor's four proposals, Issues 2, 3, 4 and 5, overshadow all the others in potential impact on the state.

In order, they are a tax abatement measure for new industry, a $1.75 billion bond issue for transportation projects, a state-assisted housing program and a $2.75 billion bond issue for capital improvements and city aid.

Supporters have pushed the issues with an advertising blitz which may have cost $2 million by the time the polls close tonight. The bulk of the money has come from companies and associations which would benefit from passage of the issues.

Those companies have not hidden their support. The Ohio Contractors Association, which spent almost $400,000 through Oct. 15 in support of the issues, argues that self-interest is not necessarily opposed to public interest. The association said that, in producing jobs, what helps them also helps the state.

But the blitz virtually eclipsed opponents, who gratefully accepted free advertising time from some state television stations in the closing days of the campaign.

The opponents argue that the issues potentially are a "blueprint for bankruptcy," with higher taxes and a long-term debt which might threaten the state's fiscal soundness.

Rhodes called unusual weekend news conferences Saturday and Sunday to promote the issues and attack their opponents, but said the sessions should not be interpreted as a last-minute effort to salvage a faltering campaign. He predicted victory for all four issues.

Five other constitutional amendments are also on the ballot.

Two of those, Issues 6 and 7, were proposed by Brown to simplify elections. They would eliminate the so-called bedsheet ballot and ease constitutional requirements for rotating candidates' names on the ballot.

Issue 1 would allow recreational land to be valued for tax purposes according to its use rather than its potential use; Issue 8 would allow state aid to the government-created railroad companies, Amtrak and ConRail, and Issue 9 would legalize charitable bingo.

Voters also face city council and mayor races and local bond issues and school levies.

Cleveland Mayor Ralph Perk is running for his third term in the nation's 10th largest city. He faces the challenge of Cleveland Board of Education President Arnold Pinkney.

In Cincinnati, the Charter Democrat coalition, victorious in the past two elections, is seeking to continue its control of the Cincinnati City Council. It faces a determined challenge from Republicans, who hope to capitalize on Democratic city hall scandals.

And in Columbus, incumbent Republican Mayor Tom Moody is being challenged by veteran city Councilman Dr. John H. Rosemond.

Cabinet Shakeup Raises Questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is changing personnel but not policy, declaring a new team of "my guys" will continue on a course of peace and prosperity into the 1976 campaign.

Ford announced the biggest shakeup of his administration Monday night in the top levels of defense and foreign policy. He also said that while Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller is dropping off the election team, Rockefeller has promised to support his election bid.

Ford told a nationally broadcast news conference that he isn't worried about Ronald Reagan or any other challenger and that he is optimistic about the election one year away.

"I am not worried about any competitor, Democratic or Republican," he said. "I am convinced the American people feel that we have been successful in foreign policy, the Middle East, Europe, et cetera."

"I am convinced that we are well on the road to a good economic situation in 1976. So, when you combine peace and prosperity, any incumbent president ought to be very happy."

The personnel changes included: —James R. Schlesinger, who has frequently disagreed openly with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger over detente with the Soviet Union, is out as secretary of defense. He will be replaced by Donald Rumsfeld, now White House staff chief.

Sources close to Ford say Rumsfeld will balance Kissinger's influence and that both will have equal access to Ford, though Pentagon officials say Rumsfeld will have to assert himself early to avoid being dominated by Kissinger.

—William E. Colby is fired as head of the CIA, to be replaced by George Bush, former Texas congressman, Republican national chairman, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and now U.S. representative in Peking.

Ford said Colby has done an outstanding job of working with Congress during a difficult period of intelligence investigation. Colby's resignation had been expected after current congressional probes are over, but sources said the move was accelerated as the result of a growing feeling at the White House that Colby had cooperated too freely with congressional investigators and had allowed too many of the agen-

RURAL HOUSE NUMBERING — The map of Pickaway County shows roads that have received their new numbers or will receive them by the year's end. These roads are "heaved in" lines. Project engineer James Page, of Fleming, Page, Stolte, Inc., a consulting engineering firm located in Marysville, states that the excellent progress can be attributed to the cooperation of the County Commissioners, County Engineer, and the postal service. According to the engineer, the main purpose of the numbering is to make it easier for emergency vehicles, service agencies and others to find rural residents. Only 30 per cent of Ohio counties remain to be numbered, according to the engineer. Jay White, Laurelville postmaster, states that his post office is using the new system with success and is already making internal record changes. Postal regulations provide for replacing rural route numbers with official house numbering systems like the Pickaway County system. The project is being funded with Federal monies allocated to state and county governments.

HUD, ODT Veto Expected Aid For Ashville Sewers

Anticipated help for a storm sewer project in the north end of Ashville will not come from the Department of Housing and Urban Development or the Ohio Department of Transportation, village officials learned Monday.

Word was received from the Columbus area office of HUD that the status report for fiscal year 1975 block grant did not include Ashville's request for funds for the north end interceptor sewer project.

And, a letter received from the Ohio Department of Transportation indicated that no help would be available to relieve the water drainage problem on the village's north end bordering on Route 316.

As another solution to the problem, village councilmen plan to reinstate proceedings for a portion of the north end storm sewer in conjunction with the Teays Valley School District's storm sewer project, which is expected to run east from the school to Circleville Ave.

However, those plans are tentative. Councilmen held second readings on two proposed pay ordinances for village lawmen and introduced ordinances that would increase the pay of other public employees.

The pay ordinances for the chief of police and patrolmen were introduced at the last meeting. One would increase Chief Alva Boyer's salary to $10,380, while the other would offer an increased salary of $8,580 for patrolman William Pontious.

The new ordinances would increase the pay of Street Superintendent Roy Mettler from $3.50 an hour to $3.75 an hour; water and sewer superintendent Steven Cook from $10,900 a year to $11,554; and assistant water and sewer superintendent William Haddox from $8,000 a year to $8,484.

The proposed raises within the water and sewer department amount to a six per cent increase.

Councilmen also learned that street lights in the area of the Jefferson Ave. and Station St. improvement project would be left off for two weeks as a safety precaution for workmen on the project.

The Van Camp Contracting Co. has begun work on the improvement project, which includes the addition of storm sewers, gutters, curbs, and paving.

Present at the meeting were Mayor James Hopper, clerk Raymond Lindsey, and councilmen Marvin Hicks, Richard Cook, Gary Throp, Nolo Gulick, Charles Morrison, and Max Cornany.

Council will meet in regular session Monday, Nov. 17, at 7 p.m. at Village Council House.

Rumsfeld Facing Defense Challenge

WASHINGTON (AP) — In stressing the team theme in his national security leadership changes, President Ford indicates he expects no more bickering between the Pentagon and State Department.

But some veteran Pentagon officials say that Donald Rumsfeld, named to become the new secretary of defense, will have to assert himself early to avoid being dominated by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

In a Monday night news conference, Ford said neither policy nor personal differences between Kissinger and Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger contributed to Schlesinger's ouster in favor of Rumsfeld.

That does not square with accounts from Pentagon sources associated with Schlesinger. These sources say Ford told Schlesinger on Sunday he was being replaced because there had been too much friction between Schlesinger and Kissinger over detente with Russia.

Ford said "there were no basic differences" between himself and Schlesinger.

But the President left the impression that he kept Schlesinger on at the Pentagon for 15 months after President Richard M. Nixon resigned only for continuity until Ford was prepared to form his own team.

"I wanted a team that was my team," Ford said.

By every indication, Schlesinger did not regard himself as a temporary holdover and was surprised when Ford notified him Sunday that he was out.

Sources close to Ford predicted that Rumsfeld, a longtime friend and now the President's chief of staff, will have much more influence with Ford than Schlesinger ever had.

One such source said that "three weeks after Rumsfeld is confirmed, you won't be seeing any more of this Kissinger meeting with Ford."

Ford himself spoke of Rumsfeld's "working relationship with me."

Although the President said "the nation owes a deep debt of gratitude" to Schlesinger for serving in a number of high government posts, Ford did not praise Schlesinger's performance as defense secretary.

By contrast, Ford said, "I'm keeping Secretary Kissinger because he has done an outstanding job."

Aides said Schlesinger plans no public statements. He probably will leave the Pentagon for the last time at the end of this week.

The outgoing defense secretary's

Hand-Hewn Log Structure Found

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Workmen tearing down a barn in nearby Madison Township have discovered a 150-year-old, hand-hewn log structure that had been covered with siding.

The owner, Harold Stallsmith of Trotwood, said the logs were notched together and neither pins nor nails were used at the joints. He said some of the 20 to 30 foot logs still carried bark.

Stallsmith is curious where the beech logs came from. "There's practically no beech around here now," he said.

Stallsmith said he has been busy answering callers who want a log as a souvenir. "They don't realize how heavy they are," he said. "Some of those logs weigh 300 pounds."

Muddying The Political Waters

Washington's political waters grow murkier with the sudden announcement by Nelson Rockefeller that he will not be President Ford's running mate in 1976, and by the ouster of Defense Secretary James Schlesinger and CIA Director William Colby.

Only time will tell what the effect of the twin actions will be.

Some pundits feel that the departure of Rockefeller will hurt Ronald Reagan's chances for the nomination, as a thorn in the side of the conservative wing of the party will be removed.

On the other hand, the ouster of Schlesinger means that Ford will definitely pursue a foreign policy laid down by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger of soft words and deeds in regard to Russia. This is a position many of those same conservatives despise.

We venture to believe that the over-all effect will be a minus for the President.

We feel this way for these reasons:

Number one, the President will probably be hurt by the departure of Rockefeller among the more liberal members of the party.

Number two, he will probably be hurt by the departure of Schlesinger among the conservative wing.

And, number three, he may well be hurt by both the apparent swing to the detente foreign policy and by the impression, rightly or not, that his is a crumbling administration.

The Invisible Poison

NEW YORK — Shortly before she died Helen Keller — blind, deaf and dauntless — told me that if miracles were being handed out, she would pray to have her hearing restored. Never mind the eyesight.

"Hearing is the source of knowledge," she said in the rasping voice she had fashioned for herself but never heard. "To be cut off from sound — that is to be isolated, indeed, from the world."

Miss Keller was known as an ambassador for the blind; yet the power of hearing was the loss she regretted most. She dearly loved to attend Broadway musicals, and claimed she could simulate the music in her head by feeling the beat of it through the floor and the seat she occupied. ("I love it when the music is so strong, it makes the arms of the chair quiver," she said.) She never actively fought for the cause of the deaf because the world's "normal" people have never been roused to mass sympathy for the affliction, as they have been alarmed by the condition of the blind...

Deafness causes no fever, no crutches, no seeing-eye dog, not even a sneeze. As a deaf man wrote me once, "It doesn't make you sick; it just makes people sick of you. They're somehow annoyed that a person who looks so perfectly healthy can't understand what they're saying."

If she were alive today, I suspect Helen Keller would take a strong stand against Noise Pollution, which some scientists say is the Public Enemy No. 1 of contemporary America. Our constant noise, it seems, has made "progressive deafness" a significant affliction in the U.S.

According to Collette Ramsay, founder of the "Deafness Research Foundation":

"Deafness takes more victims in the United States than all the sufferers from Cancer, multiple sclerosis, epilepsy, tuberculosis and blindness combined." Yet who's listening to the threat? "The public remains almost totally apathetic about the dangers to its own hearing."

This unfortunate situation results from living in such a disastrously noisy environment that we scarcely know quiet when we hear it. And because noise is, to many, a semantic puzzle...

When you listen to your TV, it produces a friendly sound. When you hear your neighbor's TV, it produces an irritating noise. When your stereo is on, you hear music. When your son's radio is on, you hear cacophony. "Turn off that noise!" you may scream. To your son, that scream is pollution.

It all adds up — even the good sounds — to a nationwide din that is destroying our health and hearing. Many doctors and acoustical technicians are aware of this, but people are still not terribly concerned.

"Death — particularly mass death — are the criteria for taking anything seriously in America," said authority Robert Alex Baron, who wrote the book, "The Tyranny of Noise." We took action against air pollution "because of the fear of mass deaths from it. You could see air pollution. Noise pollution, however, is an invisible poison. We know it makes us tense and irritable, and we are vaguely aware that it affects our biological systems adversely, and changes our blood pressure. But we tolerate it because, so far, nobody has proved that it can cause widespread death."

Meanwhile, we live amid the excruciating environment of trucks, sirens, jackhammers, horns, screeches, dishwashers, ventilators, air-conditioners, traffic, garage cans, and dozens of other disturbers of the peace. "We tolerate," said Baron, "because if we are aware that noise bothers us, to whom do we complain? And what will happen if we complain? Nothing."

Laying the blame on corporations and public officials who quietly ignore the din, he suggested that we, the people, must cry out — "loudly, if we are to be heard" — and force business and industry to "design for quiet": quieter vehicles, appliances, accessories and construction equipment.

"With our scientific and technological brains, anything can be designed to be less noisy than it now is."

"You know, people have been disturbed by noise since time immemorial. Julius Caesar tried to halt the noises of chariots. Queen Elizabeth I banned the beating of wives after 10 p.m. But today, we throw up our hands and take it for granted, thinking there's nothing we can do."

Ironically, the more sophisticated our technology becomes, the more the din grows. "Let us face it," the maker of our raucous garbage disposal unit says, "We could make you a larger, bulkier, more expensive unit which would dramatically cut down the noise in your kitchen. Would you buy it — at perhaps twice the cost of your present disposal? I suggested he make it, and I'd see. 'Sorry,' he said. 'No consumer promises, no company risks.' So the sound of money-changing is the most polluting of all. And the hush of nonfunctioning cash registers is a deadly silence."

Faced with the facts, it is no wonder whatever that the meditation movement is catching on in America. The only available quiet may be in our own minds...

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Can the sharp improvement in the Gross National Product during the third quarter be continued into this, the final three-month period of the year? If only it could be.

If it could be you would find Wall Street forgetting its worries, workers being added to payrolls at a near-record pace, profits soaring, and consumer buying getting caught up in the enthusiasm.

The third quarter is being viewed, however, as something unique. Seldom can two such powerful quarters follow each other, and business economists don't expect the fourth quarter to be an exception.

Estimates vary, as of course they always do where economists are involved, but the rate of improvement during the final three months of 1975 is expected to range down to zero by some forecasters.

In the third quarter the GNP soared at an annual rate of 11.2 per cent.

A surge of that intensity would appear to contain energy sufficient to keep it going, albeit at a slower pace, for several more months. An important ingredient, however, seems to have been missing.

Surveys show that throughout the advance of the third quarter millions of Americans were almost totally unaware of any improvement. If the surveys are to be believed, consumers remained cautious.

In fact, one survey by a very large commercial bank indicated that at the very time the economy was on its upsurge, most Americans were complaining that it was getting worse.

While consumer spending did rise, especially for automobiles, it was inconsistent. Some department stores continued to report unsatisfactory sales. A variety of durable goods retailers were less than satisfied.

Much of the increased production appears to have gone back into inventories rather than to the retail consumer. And some of the goods that did reach the consumer were snapped up in fear of higher prices later.

Industry, while enjoying the sharp upturn, showed little evidence either that it was anticipating a continuation. It contributed little in the way of spending for capital improvement, and isn't expected to do so in this quarter either.

Without commitment from these two essential groups, industry and the consumer, it is just about impossible for the recovery to be smooth and strong.

The situation also presents Washington with a problem in human relations that is exemplified by this question: "How do you convince the people that the economy is getting stronger?"

Somewhat, many American consumers and businessmen appear to feel they have been untouched by the recovery. While they don't deny the statistical evidence, they view it as unreal in their own situations.

They are saying in effect, that if a strong recovery is under way it must be happening to somebody else. They are waiting to be touched by the good news before they commit themselves.

In 1884, Democrat Grover Cleveland was elected President.

In 1931, the League of Nations accused Japan of aggression in Manchuria.

In 1944, the World War II Allies announced that Greece had been completely liberated from the Nazis.

In 1973, Senator Edward Brooke of Massachusetts became the first Republican senator to publicly urge the resignation of President Richard Nixon.

Five years ago: The United Nations General Assembly called for a 90-day cease fire in Middle East fighting.

One year ago: Representatives of more than 100 nations gathered in Rome to plan measures to attack the problem of world hunger.

Today's birthdays: Comedian Art Carney is 57 years old. Painter and scenic designer Eugene Berman is 76.

Speaking Of Your Health

I can't seem to open the paper without being scared about emphysema. My wife and family hound me to stop smoking cigarettes since the doctor said my cough is due to tobacco. I have cut down to one pack a day.

Mr. H.U., Ill.

Dear Mr. U.:

The fact that you read so much about emphysema is a testimonial to the excellent health campaigns about this serious disease.

This devastating lung disorder can rarely be completely reversed when once chronic changes in the lungs have begun.

Cigarette smoking, undoubtedly, is the most important culprit responsible for the destructive changes in the tiny air sacs of the lungs which eventually make breathing difficult.

The wheezing and the shortness of breath associated with chronic emphysema make invalids out of people who might otherwise be productive and happy.

It is true, of course, that there are other causes for emphysema besides tobacco. Yet, if the single element of cigarette smoking is considered to be a factor by your doctor it should be totally eliminated.

It must be obvious to you that any threat to your health must necessarily be a similar threat to the security of your wife and children. It is understandable, therefore, that they, in their anxiety, may tend to nag you, hoping that in some way you can sensibly understand the ever-present danger to your health caused by your smoking even one-pack a day.

Are vibrating machines any good for losing weight and reducing the flab around the waist?

Miss D. L. C., Calif.

Dear Miss C.:

They are not of any value in weight reduction. Many purchasers of these machines buy them as a means of avoiding the simple reality that they eat too much. Yet it is true that these vibrating machines can give better tone to the muscles and perhaps firm the body tissues. The "flab" you refer to is usually a collection of subcutaneous (under the skin) accumulation of fat. To get rid of this "flab" the machining should be used in conjunction with a reducing diet.

Grand prizes in the Circleville Chamber of Commerce sponsored Halloween parade were awarded jointly to Mrs. Ivan Kendall of Jackson Township and Mrs. John Rodgers of Wayne Township who were dressed as two shocks of corn with pumpkin heads. The parade and contest attracted more than 200 entrants.

Halloween pranksters arrested included three "grown" men from the Tarlton area. Their penalty was to set up all the outdoor toilets they had upset, not to be caught together and each was to attend church at least one Sunday a month for six months.

A Hallsville man lost his driving rights for life when he was arrested for driving while intoxicated.

A 21-year-old man who confessed to setting two barn fires in Circleville was sentenced to the Ohio Reformatory in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

Yvonne Flannery of Adelphi, selected Miss Pumpkin Sho, was accorded similar honors when she was named Miss Ross County at Chillicothe's Halloween celebration.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Wednesday, Oct. 22, our 3 1/2-year-old daughter, Nikki, ran in front of a car on East Ohio Street. She is home from the hospital now and is doing just fine. We don't quite know how to express our appreciation for the concern of all our friends or how to show our thankfulness to all those who did their best to help her when she was hurt.

All we can say is God bless you and may He smile upon you with the same blessings of strength and hope that He has so greatly shown to us in our hour of need.

Harsha Reports

BY WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
Sixth District Of Ohio

Our nation's veterans are an indispensable ingredient in the American success story — now nearing its 200th year.

Those who have served our flag in peace and war have left their mark in a significant way on the history of our Republic and, indeed, the world. They have, in the popular vernacular, "paid their dues."

We, as a nation, have traditionally set aside November 11th as the date for paying special tribute to America's veterans. The date has its origin in the World War I Armistice Day, "on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month."

Therefore, in view of the history and tradition associated with that date, it was understandable that many Americans — and particularly American veterans — viewed with considerable disdain the inclusion of Veterans Day in the so-called "Monday Holiday Bill" enacted by Congress in 1970.

Under that legislation, Veterans Day was changed from its November 11th date to the fourth Monday in October. It, thereby, became just another three-day holiday, with its significance, for the most part, given only casual attention.

Changing the traditional date of Veterans Day never really had widespread support. The vast majority of the states — over 40 — had already returned to the original date as state holidays even before the Ninety-fourth Congress this year wisely approved legislation redesignating November 11th as the legal observance of Veterans Day. In fact, two states never changed the date in the first place. The change will become effective in 1978.

I supported the reinstatement of the original date for this significant and meaningful observance. Veterans Day should be a solemn occasion, at which time we recall and rededicate ourselves to the ideals for which millions of Americans died.

It is a day that is sacred with our more than 28 million veterans and one that is steeped in tradition. It was expanded in scope when in 1954, Armistice Day was changed to Veterans Day, in order to honor all veterans of all wars.

American veterans set the example today, as in the past, in preserving patriotism, whether it be through the proper display of the flag, observance of patriotic holidays, or verbal respect for the nation and its traditions.

They have historically formed the bedrock of support for a strong America, economically, militarily, and spiritually.

Leadership and service to the Nation and its veterans have long been trademarks of our outstanding veterans service organizations. These organizations do a particularly effective job in focusing on both the needs and the contributions of America's veterans.

All of us can be thankful for the freedoms that we now enjoy and have enjoyed for the nearly two centuries of our existence as a nation. Those who proudly wore the uniform of the United States helped secure and preserve those liberties we cherish today.

We must not forget the 44 million men who have fought to defend our Nation in 10 major wars from the Revolution through Vietnam. We must never forget that a million Americans have died for the perpetuation of our way of life.

It is altogether appropriate that on November 11th, we honor those who have proved their unbounded courage and devotion to freedom and the rights of man through their defense of our nation.

The allegations included a hands-off policy in vice control, money reaching the chief through the vice squad and the hiring of on-duty police personnel to work on Goodin's private property in Kentucky.

Leis' statement followed a meeting with city manager William Donaldson, city officials and representatives of the FBI and U.S. Attorney's office.

Donaldson said he had not asked for the resignation nor the suspension of Goodin or any of the police officers and said he had not yet received his copy of the letter.

The letter asks the dismissal of Goodin, Asst. Chief Embury Grimes and two unidentified captains, who used their positions to their gain. Grimes called the accusations "terrible" and said there was no truth to them.

Leis said he ordered the grand jury probe because he wanted to avoid a possible charge of conflict of interest on his part because of his close friendship with Goodin.

Chief Goodin and his assistant Emery Grimes both denied the charges.

'Rest' In Beirut Ends For Volunteer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A Vermont transfered to Beirut "for a rest" after supervising the American evacuation of Phnom Penh now directs the rescue of Americans trapped by Beirut's street fighting.

Sidney Telford, 37, of Newport, Vt., heads a five-man band of volunteers from the U.S. Embassy staff who make "thunder runs" in Ambassador G. McMurtrie Godley's armored limousine and other Embassy cars.

"We're still trying to get some people out of bad areas," said Telford on Monday. "We have three operations pending, but each emergency extraction is minutely planned and kept secret until the last minute. It's a spur-of-the-moment decision when we actually go in, depending on street conditions."

Telford is the Embassy's regional security officer. The others in his rescue squad are Marine Lt. Col. Richard Braun of Rochester, N.Y., deputy security officer John Jarrel of Smithfield, Tex., narcotics agent Michael Holm of Seattle and Zuhair, the ambassador's Lebanese chauffeur.

Several bullets have hit the Embassy cars, but generally the warring Moslem and Christian gunmen do not interfere with the diplomatic rescue missions.

"We drive very slowly, waving and smiling," said Telford.

"One of my biggest problems is trying to stop people from going back to water their plants or check on their belongings. Every time there is a lull I am besieged with requests to go back."

"The biggest danger for Americans is that danger has become a routine here. They're so used to shooting in Beirut they start feeling safe when they shouldn't be."

An excellent way to extend ground beef for hamburgers is to add bread soaked in a little soy sauce, mixing the ingredients together well. And this method adds good flavor.

FRENCH DINNER
Grilled steak, Julienne de Carottes au Gratin, salad, cheese, fruit, coffee.
Julienne De Carottes
Au Gratin

2 pounds carrots, peeled and coarsely grated
1-3rd cup butter
The juice of 1/2 lemon (or more — to taste)
Salt

1 teaspoon sugar
1 1/2 cups heavy cream
3 eggs
Pepper

Combine the carrots, butter, lemon juice, salt and sugar in a saucepan, pour over just enough water to barely cover, bring to a boil, and simmer, covered, for about 1/2 hour, then, over a high flame, stirring all the while with a wooden spoon, cook until the liquid has evaporated. Leave to cool for about 10 minutes.

Whisk together the cream, eggs and seasonings, stir into the carrots, pour into a buttered baking dish and bake for about 35 minutes or until the surface is swelled and brown. (For this lovely carrot pudding from Richard Olney's "Simple French Food," published by Atheneum, we used a 2 1/2-quart oval — about 13 by 9 by 2 inches — earthenware baking dish called a gratin and a preheated 375-degree oven.

MORNING COFFEE
Orange spongecake with creamy orange icing, coffee.

Creamy Orange Icing
3-ounce package cream cheese
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon orange juice

2 cups (about) confectioners' sugar
Beat together the cream cheese, orange rind, orange juice and enough sugar to make a good spreading consistency. Makes enough to ice top and sides of a sponge cake baked in a 9 or 10-inch tube pan.

SUNDAY SUPPER
Assorted cold meat, potato salad, pickled mushrooms, peach melba.

Pickled Mushrooms
Takes the place of a relish.
1-3rd cup sugar
1-3rd cup red wine vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon whole mixed pickling spices

Bay leaf
Two 4 1/2-ounce jars whole mushrooms in their own juice, drained
Small onion, thinly sliced and separated into rings.

In a small saucepan bring sugar, vinegar, salt, mixed spices and bay leaf to a boil, stirring until sugar dissolves. Remove from heat. Add mushrooms and onion. Turn into a jar; cover tightly and chill overnight to allow flavors to blend. Drain before serving.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Hubby Boosts Ego

DEAR ABBY: My husband is either the world's biggest liar, or he must have something I'm not aware of.

George said he was through driving sitters home because they just won't leave him alone. He claimed the last one—a 16-year-old girl—practically attacked him in the car. (She's a Junior Achiever. Can you believe this?)

Another time, the minister's wife called and offered me some home-grown cucumbers. She said she had more than she knew what to do with, so I sent George over to get some.

When he came back he said the minister's wife tried to get him to "relax" on a mattress in her basement. Then she "begged" him to try some of her pineapple upside-down cake. He also claimed that to prolong his stay, she handed him one cucumber at a time!

He's always telling me how women can't resist him. Believe me, Abby, he's nothing special.

Registration For Selective Service Required

The Selective Service System has informed James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service officer that preparations are now underway for the implementation of the first annual registration since 1948.

"The Selective Service System has informed me," Shea said, "that on Wednesday, March 31, 1976, one day only, young men born during the year 1957 or earlier who have not already registered with Selective Service will be required to do so." "There has been no registration of 18-year-olds" the service officer said, "since March 31, 1975, when the law requiring 18-year-olds to register expired." More information as to where the one day registration will be held will be released at a later date.

The local Service Officer also announced that the State of New Hampshire has become the eighteenth state to approve payment of a bonus to veterans with Vietnam Era service. To be eligible for the New Hampshire bonus, a veteran must have been a bona fide resident of the State both at the time of entry into service, and separation from active service. Local Engineer Receives Recognition

John P. Measamer, of 5 Bristol Court, was awarded the engineer-in-training certificate by the Ohio State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Surveyors during a statewide certificate presentation meeting, Saturday, October 25, sponsored by the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers (OSPE) at Hitchcock Hall on the Ohio State University campus, Columbus.

Alfred H. Samborn, P.E., chairman of the registration board, presented the certificate to Measamer.

A 1975 graduate of Ohio State University with a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering, Measamer is employed by Allis-Chalmers, Indiana, as a test and design engineer in charge of the designing and testing of new or modified agriculture loaders.

He is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and is married to the former Susan Mathiason of Dayton.

Should I pretend to believe him, call him a liar or what?

GEORGE'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: If George is making up these stories, he must feel the need to convince you (and perhaps himself) that he's desirable. If you call him a liar, you'll castrate him. Give his ego a boost instead, and he won't have to lie.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old boy and I'm in the 10th grade. I gave my girl friend a wrist watch for her birthday, which caused her parents and mine (especially hers) to become very upset.

Her parents seem to think it was an "engagement" present, and they made her give it back to me.

My parents weren't quite so harsh, but they think it was a little too much for a boy of our age group to give a girl friend.

Abby, I didn't give her the watch to symbolize anything. I just wanted to give her something nice, and she needed a watch. It was very expensive.

My girlfriend was heartbroken when her parents made her return it, and my ego was somewhat pounded into the ground. I realize that we are not old enough to become seriously involved, but I do think she should have been able to keep it.

What do you think? Please be open-minded.

T.L.
DEAR T.L.: It's not the cost but the kind of gift your parents objected to. Jewelry and personal attire (at any price) are too intimate for 14 year olds.

DEAR ABBY: Five years ago our daughter was hostess to her high school club, and the parents were invited, too. She entertained them in our home on a Sunday afternoon.

One of the fathers was fascinated by a cuckoo clock an aunt had brought me from Switzerland. He said the cuckoo was not emerging properly from the cage for its periodic cuckooing, and since clocks were his hobby, he insisted on taking it home for repairs.

This gentleman lives across town, our paths never cross, and I haven't seen him or the cuckoo clock since.

Perhaps the repairs were more time-consuming than expected, but I'm getting concerned. What should I do?

TIMELESS
DEAR TIMELESS: The "gentleman" who took your clock home is obviously for the birds. Contact him and tell him you're coming by to pick it up if he hasn't already flown the coop, that is.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Marijuana Case Bail Turned Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Ohio men whose conviction on marijuana charges will be reviewed by the Supreme Court were refused release on bail Monday.

Jefferson Doyle and Richard Wood were denied bail by the full court, upholding a decision by Justice Byron White on July 31.

The justices agreed on Oct. 6 to hear arguments of Doyle and Wood that their right to remain silent after their arrest was violated.

In renewing their request for bail, they cited this action and a decision recently by the U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati that Ohio's 20- to 49-year sentence for sale of marijuana is unconstitutionally excessive. The legislature since has revised the law regarding marijuana possession.

Doyle and Wood were convicted on charges arising from an alleged marijuana transaction in a Dover, Ohio, tavern in April 1973.

The men said they elected to remain silent at the time of their arrest but were nevertheless questioned at their trial as to why they did not protest their innocence or consent to a search of their car.

Rare Cancer Claims Man

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Charles E. Arthur, 47, died Sunday in a local hospital of angiosarcoma, a rare liver cancer linked with exposure to polyvinyl chloride gas (PVC).

Arthur, an employee of B.F. Goodrich Co.'s chemical plant in nearby Avon Lake for 21 years, spent about 11 years working with PVC, Goodrich said. The cancer was diagnosed about eight months ago.

It was the first such death in connection with the Avon Lake plant. A number of others have occurred among employees or retired employees of Goodrich and other rubber and chemical companies since the connection was discovered about two years ago.

Survivors include his widow Helen and four children.

October Distributions Made By County Auditor

Margaret Remy, Pickaway County Auditor, has made her distributions for the month of October to the county, townships, corporations and school districts who qualify for distributions.

Pickaway County received $310,648.76 for the second installment of 1975 vehicle revenue. These funds are earmarked for local street and road improvement projects.

Auto license and gasoline funds are used by the county engineering department. The total amount distributed to the engineer was $232,529.90.

Of that amount the townships received $27,380.92 divided as follows: Circleville Twp., $735.17; Darby Twp., $2,169.98; Deercreek Twp., $1,598.22; Harrison Twp., $1,224.37; Jackson Twp., $1,239.40; Madison Twp., $1,440.27; Monroe Twp., $2,587.44; Muhlenberg Twp., $774.11; Perry Twp., $1,723.82; Pickaway Twp., $2,705.64; Saltcreek Twp., $2,638.68; Scioto Twp., $2,430.29; Walnut Twp., $2,686.51; Washington Twp., $2,301.16; Wayne Twp., $1,134.86.

The corporations received a total of $31,837.94. That figure was divided as follows: Ashville, $3,151.12; Circleville, $22,588.24; Commercial Point, $393.04; Darbyville, $140.08; Harrisburg, $40.46; New Holland, $1,173.68; Orient, $1,169.26; South Bloomfield, $986; Tarlton, $475.32; Williamsport, $1,720.74.

Permissive tax of $5 for each license tag yielded $13,900. That amount was divided among the following corporations: Circleville, $15,594; Ash-

8 Super Trees Produce Seed

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Eight "super" trees in a sugar maple seed orchard at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center here have produced seed for the first time after 20 years.

The center said the sugar content of their sap averages more than four per cent, double the sugar maples in Ohio.

Dr. Howard Kriebel, center forester, said it takes about 42 gallons of maple sap to make one gallon of syrup at the present 2 per cent average.

The seeds have been harvested and sent to the state nursery at Zanesville for planting. The seedlings will be distributed to maple syrup producers around the state.

Insulate your and money.

Only one of the three little pigs was very smart. He made sure his home was snug. And so should you.

If you have less than six inches of insulation on the floor of your attic, you're losing heat. It will rise into the attic and sneak out through the ventilation port under your roof. Your furnace will work to replace that escaping heat. And that's a waste of money. Insulation is easy to install. An afternoon in your attic can save you a bundle.

Check your windows for leaks. Carefully move a lighted candle around the window frame. A slight draft will disturb the flame and tell you you're losing heat, and money, right out the window. Caulk leaking windows. Put weather-stripping on all exterior doors, the attic door, and the door to an attached garage. In short, button up your home snugly.

Even if you can afford to waste money, none of us can afford to waste precious natural gas. It's in short supply. The gas we save at home is needed to keep industry going. And as industry goes, so goes employment.

That helps keep the wolf from the door.

Food Prices Steady, AP Survey Shows

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Supermarket shoppers found overall grocery bills stayed fairly steady during October, an Associated Press marketbasket survey shows. Increases in the price of chopped chuck, frozen orange juice and butter were balanced by declines in the cost of eggs, hot dogs and sugar.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973 and has rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month.

During October, the marketbasket total at the checklist store increased in six cities, up an average 3 per cent, and decreased in seven cities, down an average 2 per cent. Over-all, the bill at the start of November was about a third of a per cent higher than it was a month earlier.

The situation was similar to that in September when the bill also increased at the checklist store in six cities and declined in seven.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has predicted that food prices will increase about 9 per cent during 1975, compared to a 14-per-cent-boost last year.

The biggest price fluctuation so far this year has been in sugar. At the start of 1975, a five-pound sack cost about $3. Prices have declined steadily since then and now average about $1.40 for a five-pound sack.

If sugar is included in the total, the AP survey shows the marketbasket bill has declined since the start of the year at the checklist store in 11 cities. If sugar is not included, however, the survey shows the marketbasket bill has increased at the checklist store in every city, up an average of 8.9 per cent.

Among other findings in the latest survey:

—The price of chopped chuck increased at the checklist store in nine of the 13 cities surveyed. The biggest boost was in Salt Lake City where the price of a pound of chopped chuck went from 73 cents to 85 cents, an increase of 16 per cent.

The higher prices reflect the grain-fed beef that is coming to market. Earlier this year, much of the meat in the supermarkets — particularly for hamburger — was less expensive grass-fed beef which generally is leaner and, some people believe, less tender than the grain-fed variety.

—Egg prices, which had been rising in recent months, dropped again. The price of a dozen eggs declined at the checklist store in nine of the cities surveyed and increased in only one — Albuquerque, N.M. The price was unchanged in the other three cities.

—The price of a pound of butter increased at the checklist store in eight of the cities surveyed, reflecting higher milk prices.

—Frozen orange juice prices, which have stayed steady for more than two years, increased last month. The price of a sixounce can of frozen orange juice concentrate went up at the checklist store in seven of the cities surveyed.

C And S Auto Electric Make Money-Saving Repairs

FREE BENCH TESTING of suspected faulty components is one of the many services Ray Crawford of C and S Auto Electric offers in an attempt to get the best possible service for his customers. He also believes in fast and efficient repair, offering same-day service in most cases.

Farmers and owners of industrial equipment have known for years the secret of keeping maintenance costs to a minimum.

They know, for example, that most of the electrical components of their machinery can be repaired, instead of replaced or rebuilt, at quite a savings.

And that's the theory Ray Crawford of C and S Auto Electric is trying to get across to owners of automobiles and trucks.

Crawford is owner and operator of the repair shop, located at the rear of 348 E. Franklin St. He assumed control of the firm from C. N. Ash the first of July.

Crawford, a graduate of Circleville High School in 1964, actually received his interest in repairing equipment from industrial training during his school years.

A veteran of the U. S. Army, Crawford worked for five years at the local DuPont plant and reaffirmed his desire to become a repairman while selling heavy equipment.

"Trying to figure out what made the machinery tick stimulated me more than the selling," he said.

And now, he says, "I can save people money. People run to auto parts stores for new parts when something goes wrong when they could come here and get it fixed."

The difference between repair and replacement with new or rebuilt parts is about 50 to 75 per cent in cash savings.

Crawford specializes in the repair of generators, alternators, and starters.

He takes the equipment apart, finds the faulty component, and replaces it. Rebuilders replace everything, but sometimes not with new equipment.

Crawford's primary desire now is to help auto customers, who he claims are "at the mercy of the rebuilders."

Farm people and industrial equipment owners have relied on repaired parts for years, he said, because of waiting periods for replacement parts. "they're forced to go to guys like me and then keep coming back."

Crawford also has a large inventory of new and rebuilt parts, including the Delco, Ace, and Arrow lines.

He believes in speedy service, promising same day repair depending on the availability of parts. But, at any rate, Crawford believes in working with the customer in every aspect of his service.

One way he accomplishes this is to bench test equipment at no charge to the customer.

C and S Auto Electric is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and 8 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

CRAWFORD CAN REPAIR items that others usually replace with new or rebuilt parts. Here, on a specially-designed lathe, he can clean and repair the brush end of the armature in a starter or undercut and regroove the commutator end.

CHECK PRESENTATION — Bob Johnson, center, member of the Ted Lewis Fund Board of Directors, presented a $125 check each to Paul King, right director of the Circleville High School Band and Mrs. Jean Schieber, left, representing the Circleville Junior High School Band. The objective of this fund was to aid in building a museum to display the musical instruments of the famed Ted Lewis, to provide scholarships to the students of Pickaway County for the study of music and the performing arts, and to purchase and donate band instruments to high schools and junior high schools in the county. The Circleville schools will use the money to purchase new band instruments.

Horse Racing Extended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans are finding it easier to gamble, but as yet there are no concrete signs their state will become another Nevada where it's all legal.

The legislature, with the state lottery a year old and thriving, moved this year to increase the number of legal horse racing days by 30 per cent — from 814 to 1,031.

Supporters of the legislation said the law was needed to help an ailing industry, with a few offering the speculation that the tracks are having to compete with the lottery for the same gambling dollar.

The new law, effective last Thursday, made numerous changes in the thoroughbred and harness racing statutes, but its main thrust was to increase racing days and provide tax breaks for new tracks or those making improvements.

It increased from 50 to 56 days the maximum number of days for each horse race meeting. Several tracks, with separate racing associations licensed as sponsors, hold more than one meeting a year. Northfield in Cleveland, for instance, has four — Northfield, Grandview, Randall, and Summit. They'll combine next year for 224 days of racing, and possibly as many as 254.

The law also provides for the first time an additional 30 days of winter racing, between Nov. 1 and March 15, for tracks which have winterized facilities. The 30-day extensions are limited to one per track. Still, for a track such as Beulah Park south of Columbus, the law will mean 86 days next year instead of 56.

Some tracks moved at once to receive approval of a winter meeting, including Beulah which requested and received 26 new days between Nov. 8 and Dec. 8.

Paul D. Fleming Jr., executive secretary of the Ohio State Racing Commission, said most of the harness and thoroughbred tracks in the state already have been allocated the extra six days for next year.

Beulah is the only thoroughbred track so far to be allocated the 30 extra winter days for 1976. Among the harness tracks, those receiving winter dates include Raceway Park in Toledo and Lebanon Raceway. Scioto Downs harness track, Columbus, will race a total of 110 days next year under the auspices of its two separate associations. It didn't ask for winter dates.

If a car's brakes respond with a spongy feeling when pumped, all brake parts should be checked.

WHS Musicians To Participate In Elk's Sing

The Westfall High School Swing Choir and Lab Band will participate in the third annual Elk's Night of Harmony, 8 p.m. Saturday, in the Circleville High School Auditorium.

The Swing Choir was formed to explore the types of popular music available to singing groups today. They perform many types of music, such as, rock music, folk songs, show tunes, popular tunes, and many others. They have also been learning choreography which has been added to some of the songs.

Composed of 21 members, the Lab Band is really an augmented stage band because it includes flutes and clarinets.

The repertoire includes ballads, standards, rock and pop tunes.

Sniper Fire Mars Truce In Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Scattered sniper fire marred the second day of the 12th cease-fire in Beirut's Moslem-Christian street war today, but no serious clashes were reported.

Security forces counted fewer than 10 killed or wounded in the past 24 hours.

But the political, economic and religious causes of Lebanon's seven-month-old civil war remain unresolved.

The right-wing Christian Phalange party accused the leftwing Moslems and Palestinian guerrillas of numerous ceasefire violations and said its militiamen would not withdraw from four confrontation areas in downtown Beirut and the eastern suburbs until the government "provides protection for individuals and business firms."

The Moslem Lebanese and their Palestinian allies also held on to their front-line positions behind sandbag barricades and gun emplacements on many city streets.

As a result, few of Beirut's 1.8 million people heeded Premier Rashid Karami's appeal to return to work. The merchants' association said "trading cannot resume while all roads are unsafe." Financial spokesmen said the city's 76 banks would wait until Thursday before deciding whether to reopen.

The "national reconciliation committee" came out of limbo to resume negotiations for a formula for Christian-Moslem coexistence. But Interior Minister Camille Chamoun, a Maronite Christian, boycotted the session because it was headed by Karami, a Moslem, underlining the bitter divisions that extend even into the cabinet.

The Christians, a 40 per cent minority with an unequal share of the nation's wealth and political power, want to maintain their position and also want the government to take control of the 12,000 armed Palestinian guerrillas and the Palestinian refugee camps which now constitute a virtual independent state within the country.

The Lebanese Moslems demand that they be given the dominant political and economic voice since they now constitute 60 per cent of the population. They also support the Palestinian cause and want Lebanon to continue to be a base for guerrilla raids into Israel, which the Christians fear will drag the country into war with the Jewish neighbors.

Lakewood Tops In AAA Ratings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A big victory over common foe Cleveland St. Joseph has propelled Lakewood St. Edward past Cincinnati Moeller into The Associated Press Ohio Class AAA high school football poll lead.

St. Edward crushed St. Joseph 35-14 last week. Moeller, the season-long big school ratings pacesetter, mastered the same school 12-7 earlier in the year.

That apparently carried much influence among a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters, which conducts the regular season poll.

The Lakewood school rolled up 275 points. Moeller collected 262. Both are undefeated and untied in nine games in 1975.

Newark, also 9-0-0, held onto the No. 3 spot in Class AAA with 226 points and one weekend of regular play to go.

Class AA Cleveland Holy Name and Class A Newark Catholic stayed atop the other divisions by healthy margins.

Holy Name, already through its season with an 8-0-0 record, piled up 255 points and commanded a 68-point margin over runnerup Cincinnati Wyoming in Class AA. Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary moved up one notch to third with 178 points.

Newark Catholic, a former small school poll champion, collected 243 points on the strength of a 9-0-0 record. Runnerup Canal Winchester, 9-0-0, earned 222 points and thirdplace Burton Berkshire, also 9-0-0, had 205.

In Class AAA, East Liverpool, beaten by Youngstown Chaney, fell from fourth to seventh to make room for No. 4 Findlay, No. 5 Canton McKinley and No. 6 Kettering Alter.

Zanesville, a 14-7 victim of Newark, tumbled two spots to eighth while two undefeated newcomers, Cincinnati Colerain and North Canton Hoover, shared ninth place.

New Lexington dropped one spot to fourth in Class AA, followed by London, Wheelersburg, Ironton, Poland, Circleville and Cleveland Benedictine.

In Class A, Loudonville was up one spot to fourth, switching spots with New Philadelphia Tuscarawas Catholic. Salineville Southern was sixth, Albany Alexander seventh, Carey eighth, Middletown Fenwick ninth and Ridgeway Ridgemont, a new face, 10th.

Pickerington to meet the Tigers. However, they will be back next year which should make coach Perry Griffith happy.

Rams Humiliate Eagles 42-3

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Shades of comedian Rodney Dangerfield.

Philadelphia showed Los Angeles Rams quarterback James Harris and wide receiver Harold Jackson no respect and it cost the Eagles dearly.

Harris explained it after the Rams humiliated the Eagles 42-3 Monday night before 64,601 booring home fans — and millions who must have turned off the nationally televised National Football League game before it was three-quarters over.

"We thought they weren't respecting Harold," Harris said. "They were just squatting on him, letting him go. We tried to earn a little respect by going along."

Boy, did they earn respect. Before Harris stopped his bombing, he had thrown three touchdown passes, 54 and 30 yards to Jackson and 42 yards to Jack Snow. He completed 10 of 20 tosses for 207 yards.

Jackson said he called his first touchdown play.

"On the previous series, Johnny Outlaw (the Eagles' cornerback) just sat there on me. I said to James, 'Look, I can beat my man on straight go patterns,' and I did with a little outside move. Outlaw was looking for me to go deep inside."

Jackson made a joking reference to the Rams' tendency to ram the ball down an opponent's throat rather than pass it over their heads.

"I usually don't see that many passes," said the wide receiver, who was dealt to Los Angeles by the Eagles in the trade for quarterback Roman Gabriel after the 1972 season. "I know I'd better catch them when I do — or I won't see them again." He caught three for 91 yards.

The game was simply a laughter for the Rams, who won their sixth straight since losing their season opener to Dallas. Los Angeles, a pre-season favorite to reach the Super Bowl, now leads the National Conference West by four games with only half the season yet to play.

Defensive end Fred Dryer, who ran 20 yards for a touchdown with a third-quarter Gabriel fumble, put the rout in its proper perspective when he said: "It wasn't any fun. It was too easy."

Dryer wasn't very kind to the losers. He said some of the Eagles quit. "I empathize with those guys," Dryer began. "But when you lose like they are, obviously something is wrong. They have half the season to correct mistakes. Some quit, some didn't."

Eagles' Coach Mike McCormack, whose job is in jeopardy, was distraught.

The tight-lipped McCormack told post game interviewers: "Gentlemen, this is going to be short and sweet. We got our butts kicked by a very good football team ... We didn't seem to do anything right. We couldn't execute our offense. It was a total collapse. That's the way it looked to me."

Gabriel was even more broken up than his coach. He usually hangs around and talks in detail with everybody who approaches his locker. He was even shorter than the coach. He could scarcely speak.

"We were humiliated, humiliated, humiliated," the veteran quarterback repeatedly mumbled.

Galloway Babe Wins Feature At Latonia

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Galloway Babe won the $1,000 featured sixth race by a half length at Latonia with a stretch drive Monday night.

The winner finished the mile pace in 2:05 and returned $16.20, $4 and $3.20. Noble Hodgen placed, paying $4.80 and $3.40, and Rollo's Fame, third, paid $4.60.

The 9-7 daily double combination of Becky's Finale and Flinger paid $77.60. The crowd of 1,678 bet $134,584.

Montreal Canadiens Stop Buffalo, 3-2

MONTREAL (AP) — Yvon Lambert took the shots. Jerry Korab and Gerry Desjardins had to bite the bullets.

Lambert got a couple of handy deflections in the final four minutes for two quick goals that gave the Montreal Canadiens a 3-2 victory over Buffalo in Monday night's lone National Hockey League game. The World Hockey Association was idle.

Joe Green Gives Lapham A Lesson

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sore and shaken, Cincinnati Bengals guard Dave Lapham said he learned a lesson from the Pittsburgh Steelers' "Mean" Scare Good.

For Bucks, Hayes Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Woody Hayes of top-rated Ohio State says that narrow decision over Indiana last week may be a blessing in disguise for the unbeaten Buckeyes.

"It proved victory is not automatic. I think it shook us down some. Now just so we don't lose our confidence over it," Hayes reflected for newsmen Monday.

After Saturday's lackluster 24-14 verdict over the Hoosiers, his team refused to say whether the 8-0-0 Buckeyes are getting better heading for Illinois this week.

"Wait until next week and I'll be able to answer that better," he said.

Hayes announced he would give his squad no more Mondays off such as he did before the Hoosiers.

"We will leave nothing undone for Illinois," promised Hayes, his team locked in a tie for the Big Ten lead with Michigan. "We'll be ready. Their team (Illinois) quite obviously can play good football."

The Illini, 3-2 in the conference and 4-4 overall, face the unenviable chore of Ohio State and Michigan back-to-back.

Joe Greene: "I found out why he's All Pro."

Lapham, a second year pro who this year won the starting assignment, said he felt he gave a good account of himself against the Steelers strong man.

"I guess I did all right. The score would have been a lot worse if I hadn't" said the 6-foot-4½ lineman from Syracuse.

The Steelers won 30-24 throwing the NFL's American Conference Central Division into a three-way tie between Cincinnati, Houston and Pittsburgh.

Greene managed only two tackles in the game but batted down two Ken Anderson passes just as the Cincinnati quarterback got them off, one in a critical last period drive.

"Greene is super," said Lapham. "He weighs 270 pounds but he's like a halfback. He does the same things everybody else does but he does it so much better."

"I learned one thing playing against him: Why he's All Pro."

The Steelers thwarted Cincinnati's running game to a scant 69 yards, although the Bengals, primarily a passing team, ran the ball only 20 times while passing 43 times for 331 yards.

"Greene and L.C. Greenwood were switching" in their charges over Lapham, said the Wakefield, Mass., native. "They really had me messed up," he said, adding, "I would have picked it up better if I wasn't so nervous."

Greenwood, the defensive end, was credited with three tackles, an assist and once sacked Anderson.

Anderson was nailed four times Sunday afternoon by the Pittsburgh front four.

The most serious Anderson sack was on the game's first play from scrimmage when he was crushed by Dwight White and had to leave the game for the opening series of plays.

Thereafter, the offensive line appeared more determined to protect their quarterback permitting Anderson's steady stream of aeriels.

"It doesn't much matter now," said Lapham, "we lost the game."

Roy Buckley Wins Bowling Tournament

CLEVELAND (AP) — Roy Buckley of Columbus, Ohio, who hasn't won a national tour title in more than three years, walked off Monday with the top prize of $6,000 in the $55,000 Professional Bowlers Association tournament here.

In the finals Monday night, Buckley rolled winning games of 228 and 287 and then rolled 193, 278, 237, 237 and 244 to clinch the title.

Oklahoma Nears OSU In Battle For Top Spot

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

Second-ranked Oklahoma, the defending national champion, closed in on Ohio State today in The Associated Press college football poll.

Ohio State remained No. 1 for the fifth week in a row but the margin slipped from 106 points to 49 following a hard-fought 24-14 victory over Indiana while Oklahoma was playing one of its better games in trimming Oklahoma State 27-7.

Ohio State's Buckeyes received 38 first-place votes and 1,188 of a possible 1,260 points from a nationwide panel of 63 sports writers and broadcasters. The Oklahoma Sooners were No. 1 on 19 ballots and received 1,139 points. Last week's margin was 50-8 in first-place ballots and 1,190-1,084 in total points.

Nebraska, heading toward a Nov. 22 Big Eight showdown against Oklahoma, also gained ground. The third-ranked Cornhuskers received the other six first-place votes and 1,058 points by trouncing Missouri 30-7.

Southern California's 28-14 loss to California dropped the previously unbeaten Trojans from fourth place to ninth. Texas A&M, idle last weekend, moved from fifth to fourth with 802 points.

The next four teams also moved up one position each. Alabama went from sixth to fifth with 665 points following a 21-10 triumph over Mississippi State, Michigan rose from seventh to sixth with 587 points by defeating Minnesota 28-21, Texas climbed from eighth to seventh with 587 points by downing Southern Methodist 30-22 and Penn State moved up from ninth to eighth at 492 points with a 15-13 decision over Maryland.

Southern Cal totaled 426 points with Arizona State once again rounding out the Top Ten with 400 points following a 40-14 drubbing of Utah.

The Second Ten consisted of Florida, Notre Dame, San Diego State, Colorado, Arizona, Maryland, Miami of Ohio, California, Missouri and Pitt.

Last week it was Florida, Missouri, UCLA, Maryland, Notre Dame, Colorado, Arizona, San Diego State and Miami tied for 19th with Oklahoma State.

UCLA dropped out by losing to Washington 17-13 while Oklahoma State's loss to Oklahoma cost the Cowboys their ranking. Meanwhile,

Tiger Frosh Top Lions In Finale

After scoring two touchdowns in the second quarter, the defense took over as the Circleville freshmen blanked visiting Washington C. H., 16-0, in the season finale. The little Tigers finished the season with a mark of 2-5.

Brian Sealock scored on a 10-yard run and Tim Welliver carried over on a 15-yard gallop. Welliver and Tom Logan ran for the two-point conversions.

Kevin Woltz led a great defensive effort from his position in the secondary. The Blue Lions were inside the Tigers 15-yard line on two occasions but couldn't penetrate the tough Red and Black defense.

Coach Bob Willard announced that Jeff Strawser, Tom Logan and Kevin Woltz were named honorary captains for the 1975 season by their teammates.

Cincinnati Reds Set Opening 1976 Contest

CINCINNATI (AP)—Baseball's World Champion Cincinnati Reds will host the 1976 official National League opening day game against the Houston Astros at Riverfront Stadium Thursday, April 8, the club announced.

California's upset of Southern Cal vaulted the Golden Bears into the Top Twenty for the first time this season. Pitt, which had been ranked three times previously, made it back with a 38-0 rout of Syracuse.

CINDERMAN — Circleville's Matt McGowan finished sixth in the Ohio Athletic Conference cross country meet to pace Ohio Northern University to second place at Delaware Saturday. Mt. Union was first with 49 points while ONU had 97 for second and Wittenberg was third with 132 points. All three teams qualified for the National Cross Country championships Nov. 15 in Boston, Mass. Matt was also named to the All-Conference cross country team.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: CHANGING YOUR MIND IS NOT LIKE CHANGING YOUR BOOTS; IT IS LIKE TIGHTENING YOUR BOOTS. — ROBERT HENRY MILLER ("THOUGHTS")

© 1975 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A day when your innate aggressiveness will pay off. Energy and drive will finally bring you some long-awaited cooperation.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Continue to hold off any direct action. You can't expect clear-cut decisions from anyone now, but someone behind the scenes is working in your interests.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Though innately an important soul, you will now have to let things take their course. Good developments are in the making but could be offset if you try to jump the gun.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Watch your budget. There are some who are enthusiastic about spending YOUR money. Pay no attention. You know your financial limitations.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): You have good reason for optimism now. A superior's enthusiasm for your efforts seems to have opted for not only pays off, but further spurs your ambition and incentive.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Don't mix business with pleasure now and don't press issues. As with Gemini, it will be better to let things take their course for the time being.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Strike a good balance in all things; distinguish carefully between what's substantial and what's mere "glitter." The latter could prove very disappointing.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): A good day for planning long-range projects. Planets, in auspicious position, promise advancement if you are your innately resourceful and ambitious self.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Rewards will gratify if you handle the needs of this day astutely — and yourself with discipline. Avoid time-wasters and eliminate all nonessentials from your schedule.

Williamsport OKs Changes In Village Water System

Williamsport council, concerned over the rising cost of producing water, okayed an emergency ordinance Monday night to replace the chlorination process and defective control switches for the village water system.

The action was recommended by Malcolm Grady and Jim Howell, members of the village Board of Public Affairs.

The decision to replace the chlorination system was based on the heavy consumption of energy by the present liquid-type chlorinator.

Council members learned that if the faulty control switches were replaced without a change of chlorination systems, the switches would probably have to be replaced again in about 10 years.

Council also okayed a proposal to construct a small building to house the new chlorinator.

Total cost of the project is estimated at $7,000.

Councilmen also adopted a curfew for village residents under 18-years-old.

All persons 18 or younger must be accompanied by a parent or off village streets dependent upon a schedule which accompanied the emergency ordinance.

The time element is 10 p.m. for the summer months, May 1 through Oct. 31, and 9 p.m. for the winter months, Nov. 1 through April 30.

The ordinance also carried a provision for the levying of fines against offenders by Police Chief Patrick Dawson.

In other business, council members tabled a proposal sought by the Williamsport Volunteer Fire Department to fund the purchase of 15 alert monitors.

The fire department apparently is seeking funds from the village and Deer Creek Twp. to purchase the monitors, which would be used to alert fire fighters in the event of a fire.

Roy Hinton was present at the meeting and demonstrated two different types of alerting units.

Present at the meeting were Mayor Paul Long, clerk Georgia Ann Puffinberger, and councilmen Harman Lemming, Robert Metzger, Jack Brayshaw, John Reynolds, Gene Smith and Lonzie Riggsby.

Council will meet again December 1 at 7 p.m. in the pavillion. A public hearing to discuss a zoning plan will be held 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Logan Elm Board To Employ Additional Reading Teacher

The Logan Elm Board of Education in regular session Monday night approved the employment of an additional reading teacher which will be classified under learning disabilities. Local superintendent John Henn said this morning that he was accepting applications now for the position.

The district presently has four reading teachers and the new position will allow a continuation of the learning disabilities program through the seventh and eighth grades.

Employment was also approved for Jean Cassell as a bus driver. Mrs. Cassell was hired to replace Ralph Baldwin whose resignation as a bus driver was accepted during the meeting. Two substitute cooks and two substitute bus drivers were also approved. Myrna Linthicum was employed as a study hall monitor at the high school and Diane Kocher as a part-time study hall monitor at the McDowell School. Both have been working in the district on a substitute basis.

Under financial matters, the board accepted the financial report and approved the request for an advance draw of $300,000. Action of the clerk for borrowing $75,000 last month was also ratified. There were also numerous transfers and bills submitted for board approval.

A new activity fund policy was approved and adopted. A copy of the complete policy is available at the superintendent's office.

Jewell Hinton, lunchroom supervisor, was present at the meeting to discuss the operation of the lunchroom with the board. In order to comply with new federal regulations, the board approved an increase for adult lunches. The adult lunch will now cost 70 cents. The regulation stipulates that the adult lunch must cost 25 cents more than the student lunch. The board also discussed the probability of increasing the cost of student lunches after the first of the year due to the increase in prices.

The board also recognized the new food service chapter and commended the cooks' efforts in receiving more in-service training to become better qualified in the school lunch program.

Approval was given by the board to participate with Ohio University in an internship program. The program is sponsored by the Martha Holden Jennings Foundation and Dr. Albert Schuster, professor of education at OU, had chosen Logan Elm as a school district to receive placement of an intern.

A resolution was adopted affirming the Title IX program which implements regulations and prohibits sex discrimination in the federally assisted programs.

The board granted a request from the Logan Elm Classroom Teachers Association to send a delegate to Columbus to a representative assembly on Dec. 5. Eleanor Bowers has been selected to attend the assembly.

Leave was granted to James E. Lytle for a required weekend drill at Ft. Knox, Ky. Lytle is in the Army Reserves.

Tentative approval was given for a field studies trip to the southwestern United States this summer. One academic credit will be given for the trip. Vic Pontious will be in charge.

Approval was also given for the library aides to attend a Martha Holden Jennings Bicentennial meeting Nov. 13 at the Jackson City Library.

Also along bicentennial lines, the board granted permission for the social studies department to paint a panorama of scenes from American history in the hallways at the high school. Art students under the direction of Bill Chandler will do the painting. Byron Welch, social studies teacher, will be in charge of the historic side of the project.

Approval was also granted for the organization of a chess club which will include students from both the high school and the junior high. The club will compete against other schools and will become a part of the Central Ohio Chess Association.

The board recognized and commended Thelma Baum for placing in the area school bus driving competition.

Superintendent Henn reported to the board that the window installation at Washington Twp. School is nearly complete.

The superintendent also reported a total of 919 parent-teacher conferences were held during Pumpkin Show week. A break-down of those conferences by school follows: Laurelville, 213; Saltcreek, 118; Pickaway, 165; Washington, 148; high school, 10; McDowell, 208 plus 75 kindergarten and 21 additional scheduled next week.

After various other reports were submitted to the board, the meeting was adjourned. The next regular meeting is Dec. 1.

Cabinet Shakeup...

cy's activities to come to light.

—Elliot L. Richardson, former attorney general and current ambassador to Great Britain, is coming home to become secretary of commerce, his fourth Cabinet post under two administrations. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., immediately foresaw the move as adding Richardson's name to the list of GOP vice presidential possibilities.

Commerce Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton is returning to private life after the first of the year, but Ford says he will be calling on Morton for aid in the future, raising speculation about a campaign post.

—Kissinger gives up his second role as director of the National Security Council. But Ford says he still "will have the dominant role in the formulation of and carrying out of foreign policy."

Lt. Gen. Brent Scowcroft, long-time Kissinger protege, succeeds his boss as chief of the NSC and as presidential adviser on national security. Some saw this as an effort to mute criticism that Kissinger wields too much power, but some of those Democratic critics maintained that Scowcroft's closeness to Kissinger meant the secretary would still maintain effective control over the NSC.

—Richard Cheney, currently Rumsfeld's top deputy, will take over as chief of the White House staff.

Little opposition was expected when the Senate takes up confirmation of Rumsfeld, Bush and Richardson. The jobs for Scowcroft and Cheney do not require confirmation.

While Ford was preparing these announcements, Rockefeller was popping one of his own Monday — he does not wish to stay around next year as Ford's running mate.

His withdrawal followed months of pressure from GOP conservatives and some Ford supporters to drop Rockefeller because they claimed he was a political liability with an image too liberal for victory in 1976.

However, both Ford and Rockefeller said it was the vice president's own decision, and Ford denied that he had put any pressure on Rockefeller to step aside.

When Ford was asked at the news conference if he had tried to talk Rockefeller into staying, Ford indicated he had not.

Rockefeller's letter lacked any explanation for his decision or any indication of his future plans, including whether he would support Ford or maybe try for a fourth time for the presidency for himself.

Ford said in the news conference that "Vice President Rockefeller has assured me categorically that he will support me in 1976." But the same question put repeatedly to Rockefeller aides during the day drew no response.

The President said it was too soon to be thinking about possible alternatives for the vice presidential slot, but the names of Richardson, Bush and Rumsfeld quickly popped into the speculation, along with Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., who served as vice chairman of the Senate Watergate committee.

Ford repeatedly denied that conflicts between Schlesinger and Kissinger over national security policy had anything to do with the shifts. Ford said Schlesinger and Colby were kept on when he took office in August 1974 at the resignation of Richard Nixon "because I wanted continuity."

"But any president, to do the job that is needed and necessary, has to have his own team in the area of foreign policy," Ford added.

Ford said he had not decided on replacements for Richardson and Bush in the diplomatic posts. But, in response to a question, Ford said Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania was "a great student of Chinese culture and history."

Cincy Vote To Be Late

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Hamilton County Board of Elections, which frequently has had delays in reporting returns in past elections, doesn't expect final returns from today's election before 1 a.m., according to Eugene Uth, the board's director.

But Uth said he only expects about 97,000 votes to be cast in the Cincinnati City Council race. All nine seats will be decided.

Cincinnatians will also vote on one race for municipal court and two money issues.

The school board has asked a $12 million bond issue to build a new school for handicapped children, and voters will also decide a charter amendment that would increase the city planning commission from seven to nine members.

Connally Eyes Vice Presidency

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Former Texas Gov. John B. Connally says he is not interested in the vice presidency but will accept the post if President Ford asks him to be his running mate next year.

"I am not going to say I would refuse to serve my country," Connally said at a news conference Monday before a $100-a-plate state GOP fund-raising dinner.

He said he does not believe he will be offered the position, which Vice President Nelson Rockefeller said Monday he would not seek. Connally had been considered a possible GOP presidential candidate until he was charged with and acquitted of accepting a bribe from the milk industry.

ADC Payments Distributed

Pickaway County will receive $60,379 in the November distribution of $33,886,785 in Aid to Dependent Children, according to State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson.

Ferguson added that the ADC distribution does not reflect food stamp allowances to the recipients. The state welfare department distributes food stamps, and ADC payments to those recipients choosing to receive stamps are reduced accordingly.

ADC payments are made to families with one parent or one unemployed parent on the basis of family size and financial resources. The ADC program is funded primarily by federal and state governments.

CB Radio Unit Taken

A citizens radio, valued at $209, was taken from a pickup truck owned by Steven Rittinger, 144½ Watt St.

The truck, parked in front of his house Monday night to Tuesday morning, was broken into through the wing window.

Thieves cut the hot and ground wires, police said, and unfastened the case-type mount.

The unit is a Pace 2300 model.

Would-be intruders were apparently frightened from the area of the Mack Wise Garage, at the rear of 344 E. High St., Monday about 8 p.m.

A resident who lives in the area, alerted by his pet dog, told police that he heard two men talking around the shop area. One apparently alerted the other that he heard someone coming, and the other apparently said that he couldn't get the door open.

Police could not locate the men or find signs of forced entry.

Doris Thompson, 724 E. Ohio St. told police that thieves took a Marion Bank money bag from her kitchen table Oct. 12.

The bag contained receipts of sales worth $441 and $30 cash.
